

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

Giant Traveling Maps

PREPARE YOUR STUDENTS FOR A REALLY BIG ADVENTURE!

National Geographic Giant Traveling Maps invite children to explore geography in a very hands-on—or rather feet-on—way, and they are available for loan to your school.

The maps' brightly-colored, smooth vinyl surfaces accurately illustrate and label the countries, bodies of water, mountains and cities.

As students travel across the continents they take part in activities including safaris, scavenger hunts, and competitive games. Along the way they gain knowledge of country locations, capital cities, population centers, physical characteristics, as well as important historical, wildlife and cultural information.

A set of ready-to-use activities accompany each map, as well as atlases, books, videos, music and game materials.

Recommended grades: K-6

The Traveling Map of Africa measures an impressive 26' x 34', and weighs 102 lbs.

Last year 11,100 children (22,200 feet) walked across Africa.

What teachers are saying about National Geographic Giant Traveling Maps...

"I loved it! It was big enough for the whole class to sit in the Sahara Desert. I feel like I had a connection to Africa..."

"[The map] was the best Social Studies activity I have seen in my 33 years of teaching."

National Geographic Giant Traveling Maps are produced by National Geographic Live!—the live events division of the National Geographic Society, producing multi-media presentations, performances, and film screenings for the general public, school audiences, and sponsoring organizations throughout North America.

Giant Traveling Maps of Africa and Asia Available for Loan in 2007-2008.

COST: There is no charge for use of the maps, however schools are asked to pay $275 to contribute to the cost of one-way shipping.

SCHEDULE NOW! Contact Andrew Pudvah to arrange to bring a National Geographic Giant Traveling Map to your school.

Andrew Pudvah
National Geographic Society
1145 17th St NW
Washington, DC 20036
(P) 202.429.5724
(F) 202.857.7747
apudvah@ngs.org